Everything is already perfect.

He is very approachable, available, and gives clear and concise instructions and criteria. I appreciate the nature of the work that is assigned to us.

I'm quite impressed with my professor; he's gone above and beyond to help with making sure I do well!

Instructor Parsa Rajabi is really good in terms of teaching and he teach us very well. if i consider myself i am not so good at coding but he set up the things in such a way that everyone can understand and follow up easily. Although the pace of class is fine as we have only one class per week and only four months to cover it up the whole syllabus. Well he is really strict when it comes to the grading its not like he don't give good grades but this man wants us to be perfect and i think that is understable in this fast paced world. I'm really happy that he teaches and made the CIS 145 so easy for us. I request the facility please give the instructor CIS 190 in this fall so i can take his class as well. In terms of money, i think its worth it. As an international student paying thousands of dollars and get good education is really meaningful. I really wish he teach us CIS 190 as well. Also he use the every minute of class time so that we can learn abd he also provide class activity and

In terms of effectively teaching the material, I wish he would go over how to do some assignments after we have submitted them. Sometimes I feel that I did not complete them as well as I could have despite being given a decent grade. There are also times where I feel unsure to ask a question because I am worried that "I should know that already" and that "I wasn't paying attention" - which is a fair response, but not always.

Sometimes the instructions are not clear for the quiz and assignments because there are some elements missings and I think most of the students gets confused

There is a lot of material to cover in a short time and the lectures often seem rushed. I am not sure if all the contents need to be added in this first year course. There are a lot of practice activities, which is helpful. But when there is a question about the material beign done at home, it doesn't always get answered in a good time. Questions and answers are done online. Also, the instructions on some assignments are not always clear.
