13. Please comment on the instructional strengths of the instructor, particularly for questions above which you rated as good or very good. (950 character limit)

Comments: Overall (7)

> I find that the way the instructor has his website created with our purpose for learning more about the topic interesting, his major strength I would say is his approach ability, his one of those guys that you'd like to get to know.

> Pasta is very good at showing and explaining his knowledge of html and css in a way I'm able to understand and present it in a way where if I go back to the slides I'm able to understand it without him there

> Since Parsa is also a student he has a firm understanding of what we can handle and how to conquer our work the best.

> The instructor is good at making sure that students understand what they have to work on to succeed in the class (the Course Content page on the CIS 145 website shows all of the work students must do).

> Very knowledgeable about his subject; good at pacing lectures and homework.

> You are teaching the class perfectly in my opinion > the instructor is calm and doesn't make the subjects over complicated. He respects his students and treats them very kindly. his method of teaching is one of the best I've seen so far. I wish I could take more of his classes. Overall 10/10

14. What suggestions for instructional improvement can you make to the instructor, particularly for the questions above which you rated fair, poor, or very poor? (950 character limit)

Comments: Overall (6)

> If I'm to be extremely picky maybe he could add some more class involvement activities like kahoot or something to stimulate interest and make sure everyone is awake and retaining information

> N/A

> NOTHING really. he is great at what he does.

> None

> The only is improvement I can suggest is that more real-time coding software should be used, to allow for testing code easily and efficiently.

> Wouldn't change much.

> My favourite parts of the class is the short breaks between lecture parts it helps when changing subjects, also the weekly homework helps solidify what we've learned.
